HOUSE POSTAL SAVINGS BILL Expected to Go Through Without Single Amendment Attached.

Washington, June 6.—The house postal savings bill was put on the way to its passage by the committee on postoffices and postroads today, and is expected to go through the house without a single amendment being tacked to it. The democrats of the rommittee filed two minority reports sainst the bill.

The rules committee will be called bgainst the bill.

The rules committee will be called to meet tomorrow morning to consider Chairman Weeks' resolution asking for a special rule with which to effect the passage of the bill and providing against all amendments. The rule allows eight hours' general debate and the offering of a single substitute, but permits no amendment.

The democrats will fight the passage of this rule with all the vigor they can command. They will be supported by a number of "insurgent" republicans who are opposed to the passage of bills in the house without opportunity of amendment.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures. At the Auditorium on Monday the raudeville bill opened before well filled houses and presented a varied pro-gramme which brought out well degramme which brought our well deserved applause for every number and indicated a popular bill for the first half of the week. In the headline place was Will H. Stevens & Co. in their roaring farce Uncle in Wrong, displaying the capable work of Mr. Stevens and the aceptable cast which is support. They were winners of much applause.

IN SENATE RAILROAD BILL

Rebating Without Fear of Prosecu-

Would Permit Roads to Engage in

The railroads represented agreed to withdraw all rate increases filed to be effective on or after June 1, and agreed to file no more increases until the bill in congress which gives the interstate commerce commission power to investigate and suspend increases which are not justified, becomes a law and goes into effect, and the comes a law and goes into effect, and the comes and all that the comes and the comes and demonstrated in the composition of the bill pointed out that it would open the way for railroads to give rebates under the guise of paying damages to a shipper. Lawyers of the composition of the composit

Representative Underwood of Ala bama said the senate amendment would effectually restore to the rail-roads the power to grant rebates. "The Standard Oil fine of $29,000,000 was imposed as the result of a mis-quoted rate," said Mr. Underwood. "If this section were to become a law the railroads might misquote a rate to a shipper and pay to him, as damages, anything they wished."
